FROM: Your SATRO® Planning Committee

Dear Colleagues:

Please mark your calendar to join us at the 20th annual meeting of the Southern Association of Therapeutic Radiation Oncology (SATRO®), which will be held April 12-13, 2018, at the Atlanta Marriott Perimeter Center, in Atlanta, Georgia, near the Perimeter Mall (<http://www.perimetermall.com/>).

Over the past 19 years our not-for-profit organization (tax I.D. 56-2133609) has become the largest membership group for southern radiation oncology professionals, attracting over 2,000 attendees from 45 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and Puerto Rico. Our subject matter attracts physicians, therapists, physicists, administrators and others, from hospital, academic and freestanding cancer center settings, with meeting turnout averaging 150-200.

Exhibit space is generally assigned quickly, so we wanted to give you sufficient time to plan for attendance and to file your exhibit application. For our 20th annual conference, we are offering an 'early bird' discount to those who submit paid (and non-refundable) applications by December 15, 2017.

Due to some of the constraints regarding marketing to medical practices or to physicians, our conference offers pharmaceutical and medical equipment manufacturers a cost-effective means of gaining similar visibility among targeted end users. If attendance is not possible, you may wish to consider providing or sponsoring one of the scheduled food and beverage events, helping to defray other conference costs, e.g. flash drives, or providing giveaways such as T-shirts or tote bags (see Sponsor tab).

To access program specifics about speakers, the conference schedule, lodging and registration, please review our various website tabs at www.satro.org. For related questions, please contact Tim Kelly, timothy.kelly@duke.edu, or Raleigh Green, GreenRW@msha.com.

To register, please submit the form found at our website, with payment by mail to: SATRO®, P.O. Box 2496, Matthews, NC 28106, by fax to (704) 333-3397, or by e-mail to: mysatro@aol.com.

Please feel free to pass this information along to your interested colleagues. For related questions, please call us toll-free at 877-559-4548.

We look forward to seeing you at our conference!
